committee sustains Sullivan, and says that Hadden's charges against him consisted only of newspaper clippings. It is understood that Hadden proposed to prefer or has already preferred charges against the Newark Lodge for electing Sullivan, and that he stigmatizes Sullivan as being unfit to be an Elk. Nine members of Newark Lodge, it is said, have been appointed a committee to defend the lodge at Cincinnati.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

China Accepts Our Invitation to Participate in the World's Fair.

It is said at the State Department that there has been no suggestion of arbitration of the difficulties between Italy and the United States, growing out of the New Orleans tragedy, as reported in a dispatch from Rome. Arbitration is the last resort after diplomacy has failed, and as Secretary Blaine promised to consider the claims for indemnity, it cannot be held the diplomatic stage has passed.

The Department of State has been officially informed of the acceptance by the government of China of the invitation to participate in the World's Columbian Exposition. Dechy, the United States Minister, writes under date of April 1 to the Secretary of State, saying the Prince and Ministers requested that the Secretary of State shall see that space is reserved at Chicago for the exhibit of the Chinese government. A communication from the Chinese foreign office to Minister Dechy says: "The Emperor has not deputed official representatives to the expositions held in foreign countries of recent years; but, having now received kindly sentiments from the United States government, the Prince and Ministers have the honor to state action will be taken in the premises, as formerly mentioned, and no time will be lost in notifi-ng merchants."

The Judge Advocate General of the navy completed the review of the proceedings of the court-martial in the case of Lieutenant-Commander George A.
Bicknell, the officer tried at New York on a charge connected with the disaster to the Galena and Nina, and the papers are now ready for the action of the Secretary. It is now positively known that Lieutenant-Commander Bicknell was found guilty of the charge of negligence and received a sentence to suspension from his rank and duty for the period of one year. The friends of Bicknell, who think his previous good record ought to count for something, are endeavoring to secure a mitigation, but it is doubtful if their efforts will be successful. Since Bicknell has been convicted for the disaster of the Galena and the Nina, it is expected that Lieutenant-Commander Lyon will now be tried for the loss of the tug Triana. The proceedings of the court of inquiry in his case were received some time ago, but action upon them was deferred until the result of the Bicknell trial reached the department.

Talking of the recent scandal developments with a friend, Gladstone said than doubled.

Sir Henry James has introduced a bill in the British House of Commons enabling members to resign without resorting to the fiction of applying for the stewardship of the Chiltern Hundreds.
It has been judged as designed to enable other culprits to sneak out silently, and has got to be dubbed the "Parliament blackguards relief bill."

In a speech at Bonn Emperor William justified students' duels, saying they were largely misunderstood by the pub-
